June 2007

Welcome to the RMH Image Group eNewsletter. Almost everyday we hear the same statement from our customers: "I didn't know you could do that!" So in an effort to keep you better informed, each month we will spotlight a recent unique project we completed at RMH.

Paoli Parking Garage Mesh Banner

This month we are showcasing an extremely large mesh banner currently hanging on a four level parking garage. Paoli Hospital has broken ground on their new patient pavilion and the banner's intention is to showcase this new facility. RMH creates banners of this size using a three step process. We begin by printing three panels. The pieces are then seamed together. RMH then finishes the project by installing the banner. This particular project is 18' x 15' and uses mesh banner material to allow wind passage. If you want your message to be seen by a lot of people, bigger is better!
